

Dear Parent,

We are excited to inform you of your child's participation in Ticket to Read[®], an interactive online reading program designed to strengthen your child's performance in phonics, reading fluency, vocabulary development, and comprehension skills. Students navigate through a self-paced instructional path, and motivational features such as ticket rewards are issued as students complete certain tasks. Tickets can be redeemed to purchase items that students use to decorate their clubhouse, or to play games that allow them to practice vocabulary skills. Students receive constant feedback from the program about their performance, and progress reports are available to teachers to share with you.

Ticket to Read can be accessed from any computer with an Internet connection at school, at home, at the library, or in any after-school setting. Your child's login is shown below.

Students will be evaluated at the end of each quinmester, therefore it is essential that students complete their reading requirements.

Join your child online in Ticket to Read and share the rewards. Not only will you be involved in your child's reading development, but you will have a chance to watch his or her reading skills soar.

Sincerely,

English Department
